THE COLORED MAN AS A BAPTIST. -In the Northern Baptist Convention at Philadelphia a few days since a colored minister from Virginia represented the Colored Baptists of that State as "sunk to almost the lowest depths of infamy." He believed that it would take 200 years to elevate his race, &c. In answer to this, Col. Heck, of this city, said that the negroes of North Carolina were bad enough, but their condition was not half so bad as this colored man had depicted. He would have Northern Baptists realize their responsibilities. They had liberated the negro, and should save him, if possible.

THE BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL Pic-Nic.—As advertised, the pic-nic duly came off on yesterday. A train conveying between seven and eight hundred left the foot of Hargett street about half past seven o'clock, and reached Haywood, the point of destination, after a safe and pleasant run. The party was composed of gentlemen and ladies as well as the scholars of the First Baptist Sunday School, and was joined at Haywood by a large number of citizens from the surrounding country. The day was passed most pleasant ly, and the recreation afforded to all was most grateful to those who have so little experience in the freedom and fresh air of the country.

TRY IT .- If you don't believe the DAILY NEWS is worth five dollars a year, or the Weekly one dollar, suppose you try to get out an issue of it with the mercury at 100 in the shade, the wind blowing the other way, no news stirring abroad, and everybody too hot to make subjects for a local, and the paper bound to come out? It is dry. We are not. We are likely to melt off like a tallow dlip. We must solidify in Beaufort waters, or the Catawba or Buck Creek, or we will make an interesting subject for an anatomical museum.

EXTRA TERM.-An extra term of Halifax Superior Court will begin on Monday week. On Thursday of that week Elias Powell, charged with the murder of - Cohen, at Whitaker's, on the W. & W. R. COMMENCEMENT AT WAKE FOR-EST COLLEGE.-The exercises of the Commencement begin on Tuesday the 8th at 8 o'clock P. M. by the sermon before the graduating class, by Rev. Thos. E. Skinner, of Athens, Wednesday at 11 o'clock A. M. Hon. A. M. Waddell, of Wilmington N. C., delivers the address before the

On Thursday, at 11 o'clock A. M. the graduating class, consisting of 9 young gentlemen, deliver the graduating addresses.

But by far the most pleasant part of the exercises of the occasion, to the young people, is the social gathering in the Literary Halls, complimentary to the graduating class, at 71 o'clock P. M. of Thursday. A large crowd is expected from all over North Carolina and especially from Raleigh. There will be two hotels open for the accommodation of the public, on that occasion, with good fare, and at low rates. The authorities of the Raleigh & Gaston R. R., and of other roads, have kindly consented to pass all those coming to the Commencement

THE INSANE ASYLUM COMMISsion.-The gentlemen comprising this commission, appointed at the last session of the General Assembly in connection with the erection of the new Insane Asylum at Morganton, have just returned from a trip through different Northern States examining simular institutions in those States. They express themselves highly pleased with what they have seen and learned, and one of the party is furnishing us with "Notes of Travel," embracing many things of interest, which the reader will find profitable to read. The publication of these will be continued for la week or two. The commission will visit Morganton next week for the purpose of locating the building and commencing work upon it at once.

"If I can't see you at home, may I set on the fence and see you go by," said a young man to his dulcinea a few evenings since. The permission was granted.

Oxford Items.—Our Oxford decression of the state of the following items:

The town is in great excitement in regard to the Railroad. The average is about two meetings a week. The people are determined to have this road if such a thing is possible. A committee of gentlemen are now traversing the country from here to Henderson to secure the right of way. They have met with no opposition thus far.

Jas. A. Robinson, the talented young editor of the Torch-Light, led to the Hymenial altar Wednesday last, the accomplished Miss Cornelis Paschall, daughter of Dr. Paschall. The geremony was performed by the Rev. L. K. Wiley, in the Methodiat Church. A large crowd of spectators witnessed the marriage, after which a goodly number of invited guest assembled at the residence of the brides father, and partook of a handsome repast.

THE WOUNDED ARTILLERYMEN. -We are glad to record the improved condition of Messrs Williams and Bingham, who were unfortunately shot during the Centennial Celebra tion here. Mr. Bingham, who has been staying at Mayor Johnson's, was able to come up street yesterday to visit his companion, who is at the residence of Thos. W. Dewey, Esq. They discussed the feasibility of going home to-night, but will probably not do so, Mr. Williams not being yet sufficiently recovered. He is able to sit up, but suffers a good deal of pain with his remaining wrist. They have both received every attention since the sad accidents which maimed them for life. - Charlotte Oi - server of Thursday. Mr. Bingham arrived here yesterday morning, and we are pleased to state that he is doing well and is in good spirits. His right arm has been amputated just above the elbow. He was met at the depot by the Artillery and Infantry Companies, placed in a carriage with Mayor Separk, and escorted to his home in the Fifth Ward. Everything that is possible will be done for these unfortunate young men, and it is certain that they will neither want for something to do or for friends.

Capt. Stronach received a dispatch sterday afternoon from Mr. Williams stating that he would leave Charlotte this evening and would arrive here Sunday morning. The two military companies will meet him at the depot.

LOUISBURG ITEMS .- Our Louis. burg correspondent, under date of yesterday, sends us the following tems:

The declamation by the boys and musical concert by the girls combin-ed of the Louisburg Male Academy and Female Seminary, in the College Chapel Wednesday night, was a per-fect success. The crowd was very large and orderly, the services most enjoyable, the weather delightful, and everything passed off to the satisfaction of the teachers, parents and the public generally. M. S. Our people are much excited on the Convention question, and many looking forward to the nomination. We have ample material to select from, and to-morrow, in convention of our citizens, a nomination will be made. I will keep you advised. THIS IS WHAT'S MAKING THOMAS COUNTY.-We had a call from a lady this week, who informed us that she had made for the past twelve months and average of $9.00 per month on butter from the milk of three cows. They feed on nothing but wiregrass, except at milking time, when she gives them a handful or two of cotton seed, ocasionally mixed with a little meal and salt. She is running a one-horse farm, and says that she will make eight bales of cotton on ten acres of land. She planted every ed herself with the assistance of little daughter twelve years old, and says that she has a splendid stand. Look at this noble woman (and we would like to give her name), planters of Thomas county. She not only makes all her provisions, but actually clears one hundred and eight dollars cash on her butter this year, and will make, if the season is at all favorable, eight bales of cotton on ten acres of pine land. Read this and blush, for we know that this lady is out-doing many of you.—

Our readers will remember a stalwart, six-foot savage, with blue stripes radiating from his optics, as one of the most notable members of the procession. He is Black Horse, the head chief of the Comanches, and the most dangerous and greatly feared marauder of the frontier. He is accompanied by his wife, who insist ed upon clinging to his fortunes, and by their daughter, the sprightly little Grasshopper, who is an universal favorite. Grasshopper attracted great attention on the route, and her little hands were constantly filled with fractional currency by the crowds that assem-bled at the various stations. The money received was always turned over to the mother, who carefully put it away, and who seemed to have very clear conception of the value of money.

Lone Wolf and Woman's Heart are the leading chiefs of the Kiowas. The white man and negro who be-long to the party can neither speak a word of English, and are thorough-ly Indian in their dress and character as any of their associates. It is the supposition that they were cap-tured when children and reared by savages. Neither of them can give any information of his early hisiory, and has no recollection of any other mode of existence. Their parents or friends were probably massacred on the plains, and these children reserved for adoption, as is frequently the custom.

[From the New York Bulletin.]

A Wonderful Invention. An invention has recently been patented by a Philadelphia gentleman, which he claims to convert water without the aid of fire or chemicals into a motive power greater than that of steam, and which, by experiment, has given 1½ tons pressure to the square inch, while a still greater capacity is claimed for it with prop-er machiney, and it is non-explosive. By a mechanic contrivance, Mr. Keely, the inventor, changes water from an unelastic fluid into an elastic fluid, which can be called by no better name than cold steam. In other words, he obtains from water, withwords, he obtains from water, with-out using fire or chemicals, the pow-er now obtained from water by fire and called steam. It is said to be a wonderful invention by those who have seen it tested, who state that it accomplishes all that is claimed for it by the inventor, and believe it is destined to work a great revolution in the world -a greater revolution than that made either by the cotton gin, the steam engine, or the telegraph. These tests have been made before scientific experts, who pronounce it practicable, as indeed the original and of ten-repeated experiments of Mr. Keely prove. He first discovered the principle he has developed in his motor while attempting to make a power-saving water-wheel, and a few years ago applied the power to running stationary engines. To test the power that had been obtained, Mr. Keely then made a cylinder of Mr. Keely then made a cylinder of drawn copper, encased this in wrought iron, and placed around both steel bands close together, making a powerful cylinder. The power was turned on, and the cylinder was torn to pieces in an instant. Then a three-horse power engine was built, and finally a fifteenhorse. These engines have been run horse. These engines have been run in Philadelphia every day for a year, it is said, without the use of coal or wood, without the use of fire, and without the use of chemicals, at a cost of not one cent. The fifteenhorse power engine has been run twenty-three consecutive hours with power manufactured in less than five minutes. The advantages claimed for it over steam, in addition to ob-viating the cost of fuel and delay of taking it, are thus stated:
The smoke-stacks of steamboats will disappear, their boilers be taken out, and the great danger of fire and explosion are removed. Its applicability is also said to be even greater than that of steam. These statements come well authenticated, and if correct it may prove to be a more wonderful discovery than that of steam, while its application may be far more universal. Ky, on the 10th proximo. PRACTICE VERSUS THEORY.—The theory of disease accepted by physicians is, that symptoms are merely syspathetic indications of its existence, and have in most instances little or nothing to do with fixing its locality. Their practice, however, is diametrically opposed to their theory, for they administer medicines which affect symptoms only. The remarkable cures of dyspepsia, sick headsche, constipation, rheumatism, general debility, urinary and kidney traubles, and malarial fevers, wrought by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, could never have been accomplished by remedies which addressed themselves merely to the removal of any one of the manifold and complicated symptoms to which those maladies give rise. Acting, as the Bitters do, directly upon the stomach and tributary organs, overcoming their regularities and endowing them with renewed vigor; they control, as it were, the springs of vitality, purifying and giving them fresh impulse and dispersions springs of vitality, purifying and giving them fresh impetus, and dispersing all those harrassing symptons which proceeds from their misdirection or contamination.

Mr. JOEL F. HILL, of Stokes County, has been nominated as a candidate for the Convention in that County.

THE Memphis Appeal of the 1st, inst. has thirty-three columns of advertisements of tax sales-a bountiful harvest for the printer, but an appalling index of the blight that has settled on the country.

THE Winston Sentinel learns that on account of the scarcity of five foot gauge rolling stock, the change of gauge will be made only to the Shops at present. In the mean time the rolling stock of the North Carolina road is to be changed at a cost of $1350 per mile. Stockholders may whistle for a dividend this year. Who cares?

HOOKER, "Fighting Joe" is severe on the modern Alaric. He says "that Sherman made war like a brigand, while many other generals never forgot that they were making war on their own countrymen." The first clause of the sentence is true enough, but it will be hard to recall to any Southern memory any General who did act as if he were making war on his own countrymen, that is, if those contrymen were entitled to any of the claims of humanity on the rights of civilized billigerents.

THE Milton Chronicle sees in the gauge question only the petty resistance of a rival corporation. 'Tis a pity that some can not shake off the grip of narrow views, and suppose it possible that men can be gov- the personal services of the whole gramme had been carefully arranged erned by other than selfish or interested motives. Those who have opposed the movements of the the R. & D. R. R. have as much reason to believe that its advocates were controlled by their interests as that the R. & G. R. R. Co. had the slightest participation in the opposition. We have the same claim to exemption from the suspicion of improper control that we have accorded to all otherssave one.

MAJOR FOOTE SUSTAINED.

Every one remembers the bold stand taken by this gentleman last winter when he and Mr. W. B. Glenn, shook off the dust of Radicalism and cut loose from the Republican party on the Civil Rights question. They were unsparingly denounced by the Republican papers, and their political death proclaimed. These gentlemen were ready to accept the issue, and as they had acted conscientiously, were willing to abide the result.

We are glad to learn through a letter from Major Foote that he is sustained by the people of Wilkes in the most enthusiastic way. He says : "I am proud of my position here. * * * Yadkin, too, is alright, and so is Glenn. You will not see a Radical from this County in the Convention. Look for two good Conservative men from Wilkes."

WHAT MANUFACTURING DOES. The little town of Durham on the North Carolina Railroad in the county of Orange is an example of what sagacious application of capital and industry will do for a people. Ten years ago Durham was known only as a way station on the railroad and a getting off place for the University at Chapel Hill. Today it is literally in every man's mouth, a familiar name all over the United States, and not unknown to the ends of the earth.

What has made this mighty change? Nothing but the introduction of manufactures. True, it is mainly confined to one staple. But the manufacture of that staple moves the springs of a hundred industries. It stimulates the farmer in the production of a crop which he sells at good prices almost at his does and summer storms which are very door. It gives employment to now the painful subject of almost hundreds in the conversion of the raw material into the manufactured article. It gives work to the carpenter in the manufacture of packages. It gives activity to a thourand needles in the making of bags. It draws population, and to meet their wants, mechanics are called in to construct houses. The increase of population necessitates the increase of mercantile establishments, and the necessities of this increased population beget other trades, industries and manufactures. Everybody is busy. Everybody finds employment. There is no idling, no loitering, no complaint of dull times.

What is true of Durham may be true of every town in North Carolina. And it may be recognized as a fact that North Carolina will not prosper as she ought until she becomes independent, until she keeps more of her money at home. And she can never do this until she embarks in manufactures, which are not only profitable to stockholders, but which, by setting other industries in motion, vivify the whole pop-

IMMIGRATION.

The public ear may be wearied with the iteration of a subject which has, up to the present, proved almost an empty sound.

The fruits of the efforts to divert the tide of immigration to the South have been small. North Carolina has attracted only a few scattering parties from Canada and from the Northern States. It is true these are among the most valuable that could have been introduced. They have brought money, skill, intelligence and morality, and we would welcome thousands more of the same class. But the great tide of foreign immigration still sweeps on unobstructed to the West. It turns away from the South because it knows little or nothing of it. It hears of it only as a land of violence, of barrenness, of heat and pestilence, and it shuns it as a plague spot. This is as much due to the indifference of the Southern States, as it is to the activity of Northern agents.

There is always in Europe, whether in the British Isles or on the continent, a large class to whom their existing condition at home has become intolerable. The pressure of oppressive taxation, the inadequate compensation of labor, the deadly competition of an over-flowing population, the exactions of military service, and of late years, the imminent, dangers of war, claiming male population, have turned the mind of the middle or poorer class to the subject of some haven of rest, some spot on earth where labor is rewarded, where plenty is secured, and where the harsh notes of war are silent. America has promised this place of repose, and its immense unoccupied domain has opened its temptations to those, who, landless at home, might for a small consideration, become proprietors in their own right.

But in coming to America their eyes have been fixed in but one direction. They see only the West. They have been industriously informed as to the capacities of that vast region, and as assiduously plied with false statements of the South.

It has been impossible to rouse our Legislators to the importance of contesting for this grand prize. Impossible to illustrate the wise economy of making appropriations to diffuse information. Impossible to satisfy them that the current of immigration once turned to the South, would in ten years or less repay a thousand fold the outlay for the establishment of agencies and the difusion of information.

The subject must not rest. North Carolina and Virginia must work. Both of those States can demonstrate that they can offer lands as cheap as can now be found in the West; that their lands are so much nearer the markets of the world as practically to bring them to their doors; that consequently the nett profits of farming operations are much greater; that the diversity of soil and peculiar adaptation of climate vastly enlarge the range and variety of productton; than an equable climate relieves our States from the extremes of winter's cold, or the fervor of summer heats, and that health such as cannot be enjoyed in the West, is the certain blessing of the long settled regions of the South; and that an old settled society, with its advantages of schools, and its privileges of religion, surround the immigrant at at once with all the attractions of his trans-atlantic home. And it is well to remember the freedom of the Virginia and North Carolina from those terrible tornadaily record, which endanger life and destroy all the hopes in property, or of those fierce winter tempests which assimilate the plains of the West to the rigorous climate of the arctic-regions.

Upon this subject there is abundant room for rhetoric, but there is still larger scope for rigid legic and practical demonstration.

We hope the press of the State will be alive to- it, and do North Carolina such amount of justice by their labors as will fill the State with efficient labor, a thrifty population, and an overflowing treasury.

Federal Decoration Day in Memphis Ex-Federal and Confederate Officers Commingling-Interesting Ceremonies.

We have already mentioned the fact that the Federal Decoration day in Memphis was observed by many ex-Confederate soldiers, including Gens. N. B. Forest and A. J. Vaughan and many other prominent officers, but the Memphis Appeal of Tuesday gives full details of the interesting occurrence. The following introductory of the Appeal's account will be read with interest : The crowning act of amity and good feeling was that which tra -

pired yesterday at the Mississippi River Notional cemetery, near Mem-phis, The day was seasonable and delightful, and the attendance was consequently very large, embracing sons, more than half of them being whites. There was no procession or parade, the military companies that participated only marching to and from the depot, in anything like array. Most of the whites present were ex-Confederates, and it will be seen from the lists below that the same class preponderated among those who were prominent in the were prominent in th proceedings. We call particular attention to this, and with no little pride, because from the time that the first step was taken to bring about this condition of fraternal feeling between Federals and Confederates, we felt, and so pledged ourselves, that the gallant survivors of the Confederate armies were in earnest in tendering to the Federal overtures of sympathy and good will and would take every step necessary to prove it. Farther than they went vesterday they cannot go, and we now that honors have been paid all ound, that heareafter Decoration lay will be allowed to come and go without parade or ceremony, and that the families, friends and comrades of the deceased of both armies will be permitted to testify their devotion without the accompaniment of drum or trumpet, oration or speech. We have paid tribute in words of eulogy, and will in history hold the cause and our dead in everlasting memory, worthy of all honor, and we will build a monument that shall speak to generations to come of their honor and fidelity. Let that suffice. The war and its issues are buried. Recurring ceremonies with speech and poem revive them. Let for them the undemonstrative but not less earnest memorials of love and respect that are testified to in flowers, and tears of affectionate re-

The exercises at the cemetery were of the most interesting and instructing character. An excellent profor the occasion, and the addresses of the ex-Federal and ex-Confederate soldiers were appropriate, and each speaker breathed the true spirit of patriotism. The poem, also, and ikewise the music, were thoroughly patriotic, and all was warmly receivd by the large and attentive assemblage. It was a true mingling of the "blue and the gray," and the lead-ing citizens who had fought gallantry on both sides during the late conflict entered with fervent spirit into the exercises, while the audience. both white and colored, rapturously applanded patriotic sentences, which sent a thrill through every heart. The platform, or stand, was most tastefully decorated with wreaths, bouquets and garlands of flowers, while the "Stars and Stripes" were gracefully draped in the form of a tent, presenting a pretty and, at the same time, very striking effect. Seated on the platform were many representative citizen of Memphis the major ty of whom had either belonged to the Federal or Confederate armies during the war. They fraternized most corcially, pose

"That stern regard which warrors feel For foeman worthy of their steel."

MISS PATTERSON'S DEBUT.-It appears to have been an amateur com-pany in which Miss Jeannic Pattermade her debut at the Mobile Theatre recently. The occasion was a benefit to the manager, Mr. De Leon. The Register makes an editorial criticism of the play at length, and thus discourses of the part in which Miss Patterson appeared: "Grace Harkaway was put into the hands of a young lady, who, in her readings before this public, has taught it to apply to her the adjective of "charming" with its most impressive accent, in French and English. With a voice of remarkable sweetness, a reading formed from studious art and personal gifts of Nature that no art can supplement, her playing raised the regret that the shrinking delicacy of a Southern girl has shut her out from a professional career on the stage to which she could carry the talents, the accomplishments and the grace of mind and person to gild her own

After James Gordon Bennet has looked over his immense correspon-dence and written six columns of editorial and twenty-five columns of ly down into the press room, where he works off his mammoth edition in time for the early trains. If a stranger pulls out a watch in the press room while he is working off the paper, he stops the machinery to tell the intruder that "no timing" is allowed there.—Courier Journal.

An account of the recent interview of Grant and the Indians says: "Mrs. Grant, Mrs. Sartoris and Mrs. Fred Grant were among the spectators in the room. They seemed more interterested in the savages than the savages were in them. One chiefbacked right against Mrs. Fred Grant, and crowded her back to make way for himself. Others of the Indians showed as striking ease in this little council. Some of them, oppressed by the hot weather, kicked off their moccasias and dug their toes into the Brussels carpet.

[For the Daily News NOTES OF TRAVEL.

The Daniel Drew, the Finest Boat of the Hudson-Scenes on the River-Mohawk Valley-Syracuse-Northern Agriculture-The Vegetation of the North-Miseries of a Travel-

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May -, 1875. Dear News:-The "Daniel Drew," on which we took passage for Albany, has been often called the finest steamboat in the world. A striking feature is the row of tall columns and the great distance apart of the decks, making the ceiling so lofty that the illusion of a saloon in a palace is perfect, with all the witchery of glass, and light, and gilding to make it complete. Of mere pleasures, few can be imagined more satisfying, than the gliding of this great leviation up the romantic Hudson, while one watches the departing day. one watches the departing day, the creeping gray of evening, or the mel-low touch of the moonlight upon the ever changing banks; now the bare bold cliff, now the green vestured hills, now tillage and town, clanging sounds of labor, or sweet bells of prayer. You are too far away from prayer. I ou are too lar away from and above the water to heed the rush of machinery; some invincible hand draws you irresistibly away as the gates of the winding river close behind each headland, and the dreamy music of the band keeps rhythm with one's thoughts and fancies and wishes for those he loves. Long lines of vessels pass us; great fleets of canal boats are dragging after the sturdy little tow-boats. They are toiling painfully on, for after the long winter of 1874-'75, prolonged until the very breath of June is near, the ice was finally broken out of Buffalo harbor yesterday morning, although snow fell in Canada the same day. Navigation throughout the Eric canal begins to-day, and ail is life after the long sleep of enforced

Truly, the music is superb. The orchestra is in full dress, and en regle altogether the conductor wields his baton, and the strains of Mendelssohn and Schumann, seem to flow fron the easy glancing rod. Now it bye-and-bye he drops into Strauss. There is nothing like that but Thomas himself, on a night of inspiration at the Park. Not long after sunrise the bridges are before us, and we are passing through the yet quaint city which is to the West. The scenes of the night before have vanished—the palisades, West Point, the beautiful lights of Newburg—all these have departed with the shades of night. We are travelling rapidly through the maga hundred and seventy four miles to travel to-day, and reach our appointed place before the session is over.

Stranger still is the contrast of climate. Here the fruit trees are yet leafless, but the orchards are beginning to bloom, much of the land has not yet been touched by the plough. There goes the farmer beginning his years work on the broom corn crop.

Very little corn is seen here, but everywhere the ground is carpeted with the softest green grass. One struck with the even regular roll of the furrows, with the absence of any sort of weeds and briars from the fences, and with the straight fence itself everywhere. No zigzag worm fence to be seen anywhere, rarely a a stone wall, generally the lightest excuse or contrivance that will answer the purpose. It is plain that the forest is thin, and lumber costly in this region. But the growth is very interesting. The White Birch and Sugar Maple, and as we proceed, the American Arbor Vice, Hemlock, Spruce and White Pine predominate. Great masses of Arbor Vite are everywhere, as we reach a colder section. Very few deciduous trees exhibited any leaves, but the fresh buds showed the time was fast approaching.

The Mohawk Valley is one vast town-to the right and left rise the enclosing hills, and in the plain between winds the Erie Canal and the Whenever a town or village or hamlet or house can be safety placed, there it sits, link after link, in one great jewelled belt of industry, across the Empire State, Schenectady, Fonda, Herkimer, Utica, Rome, Oneida, and all the smaller towns, we pass in rapid succession to rest awhile in Syracuse.

It has been delightful to-day. The Doctor, however grave whenever duty demands or feeling inspires, is genial and winning on the route, and strangers seemed to gather around and near him involuntarily. The Colonel, with his keen observation of men and manners, and fund of anecdote, ever enlivens the passing hour. And another, whose womanly mod-esty would shrink from newspaper ention, but whose bearing made us always proud of our representative of North Carolina girls, gave life and brightness to every scene. There were indeed companions to transmute the leaden hours of travel to brightest gold.

Syracuse is a city of ninety thousand people. We observed some handsome churches, and if the juxtaposition may be allowed, very extensive breweries. It has been a famous spot for holding political conventions, on account of its relations to the railroad system. I will set this down for the comfor of some of our farmers. With a fair breed to begin with, good feeding and good care will give the Carolina farmer as good cattle as can be found anywhere. We have seen many cows to-day and other stock, but nothing as good as the fine red Devon, or the noble Alderney, now on the Asylum farm at Raleigh.

The bell rings to take our branch for Auburn, once more there to encounter the newsboy, the orange man, the wonderful picture-book man, the "walnut meat," (horror of horrors to the dyspeptic), the baggage man, the life accident insurance man, the Beecher-trial paper man and the "original-five-cent-a-package - prize - in - each - one - with - five figs" man.

The Tobacco Trade. Some statistics of the tobacco trade of this country may be of some interest. During the last year we exported 318,097,804 pounds of tobacco, valued at $139,398,181, and imported 10,000,000 pounds of leaf and stem, $5,332,531. We also imported 41,945,-744 pounds of cigars, or 76,888,000 cigars, worth $2,638,628. We also manufactured from imported and domestic tobacco 1,780,961,000 cigars. The daily average of cigars smoked in the United States is 5,168,000. The Government received last year from tobacco and cigars a revenue of $39.

the following is the sworn report of sales of Sewing Machines made by the leading Companies for 1874. An examination of the figures below will show that the "Singer" has largely increased its sales, while the other companies have fallen off.

The Singer has shown a large increase in sales every year as the statement below for the last lour years will prove.

In 1874 the Singer sold 148,852 more ma-chines than their nighest competitor. Making the total sum of 875,187 machine

Making the total sum of 875,187 machines which was 160,505 more than their highest competitor. This fact, proves the great superiority of the "FI GEA" over any other machine. Now the question is, how long will this state of affairs last? How long will the other companies be able to keep offices open in the different cities and towns when they are selling so few machines? Persons who think of buying or exchanging old ones (of whatever kind) are invited to consult their interest by getting a reliable machine from the old and reliable singer Manufacturing Company.

ROOMS OF THE DEMOCRATIC CON-SERVATIVE CENT'L EX. COM, RALEIGH, June 1st. '75. To the People of North Carolina:

The General Assembly at its recent session called a Convention of the people to meet at Raleigh on the 6th day of September next, for the purpose of suggesting such alterations in our organic law as may be deemed wise and expedient. NECESSITY FOR CHANGE

The necessity for changing many of the provisions of the existing Con-stitution is generally admitted, and is too apparent to require extended argument. It is true that some of our prominent men at one time oppose the call for a convention; but their action was based on prudential consideration, and not on an indisposi-tion to have the Constitution thoroughly revised. They feared that our purpose in seeking to reform our Fundamental Law, might be misconstrued by the violent and ill-informed men then controlling Congress, and the prosperity of our peo-ple checked, and the peace of the State jeopardized by some harsh and unconstitutional action on the part of the United States authorities. That fear no longer exists. We now have every assurance that the Constitution of the United States will be observed by the officers of the Government, and feel a satisfaction in announcing to you that the time has at last arrived when the officials at Washington City concede that the people of North Carolina have the same right to manage their local concerns which the citizens of other States enjoy. We can proceed with-out apprehension to perfect our Con-stitution and remodel it in the interests of our people.

THE CONSTITUTION, THE CREATURE OF MILITARY LAW. This Constitution, the creature of Military dictation, was born in the throes of a Military reconstruction. Its authors were mainly Sciolists and adventurers, who had lived among us without preferment, or possessed of qualifictions entitling them to it; others were our recent staves, who had known no law save the will of their masters, and others still were carpet-baggers, both black and white—alien in feeling and Radical in education—who sought positions here that were denied them where known-to despoil and humiliate us. And when their work was submitted to the people at the polls, thousands of our best citizens were deprived of the right of voting upon it, and over eighty thousand ignorant negroes were given the ballot to secure its adoption. It is no exaggeration to say that not one person in ten who voted for it could read the instrument, and not one in fifty had read it or was even moderately familiar with its provisions, and many gave it their support beleiving it would be merely temporary, and to escape further agitation and revolution. It is natural therefore that a Constitution thus formed and adopted should be found unsuitedt o our condition, and that we should embrace the earliest opportunity consistent with reason and prudence to secure such changes as time and experience have shown to be necessary. Our organic law should be expressed in language clear, sim-ple and perspicuous, so that nothing may be left to inference or construction; our rights, so precisely defined as to be comprehended by all men of ordinary intelligence; and each department of the government should be so restricted, that while left free to discharge its appropriate duties, it cannot by unwarranted encroachments embarrass the proper action of the others. THE CONSTITUTION UNSUITED TO OUR CONDITION. That the Constitution contains some good provisions no one denies; it would be singular if it did not, but its abominable characteristics were so manifest that not a single Conservative member of the Convention that passed it could be induced to affix his signature to it, as a fit intrument to be submitted to the peoole. Indeed its provisions are so loosey worded and so badly arranged as o constitute but a medley of inconsistencies that defies the successful construction of the courts; in fact, to reconcile the difficulties arising from its practical workings, the court has in ome instances been driven to supply omissions, and in others to intr duce a new principle, hitherto un-known in the juridical history of our State, distinguished as "judicial legislation," an innovation anti-republican in character and invasive of the rights and duties of a separate department. Its provisions are so obscure that within the brief space of its ex-istence many more decisions on constitutional questions have been de-manded than in the entire previous history of the State-and of late we have witnessed the extraordinary spectacle of two sets of judges in both the 2d and 8th Judicial Districts, contending for the same position one of which claiming to hold by as appointment from the Governor for a period of ten years, an office that the Constitution seems to say is to be filled by the people at the polls, and whose term is expressed to be only eight years. In many counties, there is a practical denial of justice, the courts are inadequate to the public demands, and thus they are driven to resort to special terms, which are expensive and unsatisfactory, and persons ac-cused of criminal offenses are often confined for months without trial. We need a speedier justice and a less expensive judiciary system. We should abolish every useless office, which is now filled by a mere consumer; for only by a rigid and prudent conomy in our public as well as private affairs, can we hope to res the State to prosperity. It is believed that the laws will be more impartially administered by a return to the old practice of a rotation of the Judges. AMENDMENTS TO THE CRIMINAL LAW NECESSARY. It is also hoped that a greater in centive to honesty and a purification of the ballot box might result from lepriving those who are convicted of infamous crimes of the elective fran-

The matter of the Penitentiary which already contains more than six hundred able-bodied men, also demands careful and practical atter tion, to remove in some measure that burden from our shoulders. Most of our private legislation should be excluded from the General Assembly However, our limited space does not permit us to catalogue the numerous defects and imperfections of the pres-ent constitution or to enumerate the remedies to be offered. There should be some general ordinance adopted in relation to private enactments, thereby reducing the ex-penses of the Legislature, and in order to prevent hasty and inconsider-ate legislation, that no new DEMOCRATIC CENTRAE COM- days of their adjourning.

CAREFUL SELECTION OF DELEGATES. As to the specific changes that ought to be made, these are to be considered by the citizens of the various counties, who should be careful to select as delegates those who will properly reflect their wishes. Men of enlarged and practical statesman-ship, spotless integrity, representa-tives of all classes of society, and whose positions among them will en-title their labors to confidence and support—and in their hands they certainly can more safely con-fide their rights than in the Conven-tion of 1880 tion of 1868.

METHODS OF CHANGE. Of the two methods prescribed for changing the Constitution, that by legislative enactment is expensive, uncertain and dangerous; the several amendments recently submitted to and ratified by the prescribed prescribed by the prescribed prescribed by the prescribed prescribed by the prescribed prescribed by the prescribed by the prescribed prescribed by the prescribed prescribed by the prescribed prescribe and ratified by the people encoun-tered the greatest difficulties in their bassage, and even after the will of the people was declared in their favor by over 40,000 majority, serious appre-hensions were entertained as to whether they were properly adopted: again, legislators when possessed of qualifications for such duties, are enenmbered with numerous matters, and cannot bring that attention to each provision presented for consid-eration, without meeting such criticisms as may imperil their labors. The Convention method is speedy and economical, the body is composed only of the same number of members as comprise the House of Representatives, and their minds are directed alone to constitutional re-forms and their work may be completed and ratified, if necessary, six months. As to the expenses that may be incurred, it is believed they will be more than defrayed in a short time by the reforms that will be inaugurated. The restrictions imposed by the Legislature, fully and amply secure the Homestead, Mechanics Lien, Rights of married women, and Presonal Liberty, and should quiet the fears of the most timid, for they are recognized as of binding efficacy and are chiefly enjoyed by the friends of constitutional reform. Indeed they were incorporated in the bill mainly to remove partizan clamor, and anticipate unscrupulous agitation. They are not the property of a mere party but had their origin in the necesisties of civilized society and were found among the statutes of various States previous to the war.

QUALIFICATIONS OF DELEGATES. It is useless, however, to seek to quiet the mere caviller; the keen opties of some persons defy all law.— The mere fact that the honor of the best men in the State is pledged to their preservation, should satisfy every reasonable voter. This Convention is called in pursuance of law, and each delegate before the challenge of the convention of the base of the state of the state of the challenge of the fore "he shall be permitted to sit to be entitled to a seat in said Convention or act as a delegate thereto. shall-swear to observe these "restric-tions" (see acts 1874 5). Should a part comply and part refuse to take this oath, only those who obey the law are members of the body, nor are we without precedents; similar oath was required of the members of the "re-stricted Convention" of 1835, the same question was raised, and after debate all the members took the oath and observed the restrictions, and that in a time of high party excitement. In that discussion the distinguised Judge Gaston used the following language: "The State Legislature had indeed no authority to impose an oath upon the members of the Convention, but the people had ratifled the act of the Legislature by choosing delegates under it. If we transcend the limits or refuse obedience to the conditions therein prescribed, we are not the Convention called by the people, but a self constituted body;" these views were concurred in by Macon, Edwards, Morehead, and others. We will dismiss this subject, however, by calling attention to the able work of Judge Jamieson on "Constitution-al Conventions," where, by argument and the cases cited by him in relation to this matter, he demonstrated that Conventions are bound to obey the restrictions imposed by the Legislature in the Act calling the Con-

AID FROM REPUBLICANS. In our last election it was gratifying to see Republicans who had hith-erto submitted to the control of unscrupulous leaders under a mistaken belief that they were promoting the general welfare, seeing their cor-ruptness as demonstrated by the "Credit Mobilier revelations," "Sanborn Contracts" and other frauds and defalcations, and their vindictive and relentless policy, whereby they sought to degrade the superior race by this iniquitous "Civil Rights Bill," overcome their party prejudice and give us their cordial support. To them we extend an invitation to remain and continue the matter of the superior of the support. the work so auspiciously begun. To those who opposed us under the de-lusion of their leaders, who assured them this bill would never pass Congress and if it did would be vetoed by the Ir sident, though it now has s signature; and who have witness e! the earnestness with which the langerous "Force Bill" was urged upon Congress, we say no longer rem in where there is neither safety nor honor to a North Carolinian. The bat-t'e for civil liberty is not yet over. 'Civil Rights" is still a part of the secret carpet-bag programme for this State; though driven from the halls of Congress, it will be renewed in the Southern States. We there fore invite their co-operation. The Convention owes its final success to the support of some of their ablest representatives in the General As-sembly and they are doubtless aware that the wise provisions introduced into the Convention of 1868, by their ablest native representatives were scouted and defeated by that same element that has brought ruin upon their party and confusion to our

State. NECESSITY OF ORGANIZATION. The friends of Convention should at once perfect their organization and bring out their best men in every Connty in the State. The leaders of the Republican party know that by their reckless violations of the con-stitution and efforts to centralize all power in the hands of the Federal Government, they have justly for-feited the confidence and support of the people; they therefore trust not to their own strength but to our apathy, and will endeavor to secure our de-feat by divisions and false leaders. We therefore respectfully invite their attention to the following resolution adopted and successfully followed in our last campaign:

Resolved, That we earnestly recomend to the members of the Democratic Conservative party to discour-age independent candidates and all other disorganizers, that all support be promptly withdrawn from every aspirant for office who shall oppose the regular nominees of our Conven-tions. Let your primary county Con-ventions be duly advertised and see that the people have a full opportuni-tof attending and expressing their wishes. The contest is important not only in its immediate effects but in subsequent results. The Republican party, under the leadership of carpet-baggers still remaining among us, will advocate the election of delegates, who will agree to meet and adourn without holding a Convention, and this in violation of the wishes of the people, expressed through a two-thirds majority of their chosen Representatives, and after a considerable part of the expenses for mileage and per diem is incurred. We believe, how ever the promise is but a delusion and snare, for should they ascertain they have a majority in the body, it will be an easy matter for them to evade their promise by the refusal of a few to concur; as they do not acknowledge the "restrctions" as binding, they will resort to the most revolutionary measures to sustain their desperate fortunes, and in the end will fail to submit their work to the people for ratification or rejec-

Let us, therefore, present a united front, and with a general advance along our lines Radicalism will not only be routed but overwhelmed, and a victory for Civil Liberty assured WM. R. Cox. Chairman.

> J. H. ZEILIN & CO., Macon, Ga., and Philadelphia.

THE SYMPTOMS of Liver Com-piaint are uneasiness and pain in the side, Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is MISTAKEN for rheuma-tism. The stomach is affected with LOSS OF APPETITE and sickness, bowels in general sickness, bowels in general COSTIVE, sometimes atternating with lax. The HEAD is troubled with paid, and doll, heavy sensation, considerable loss of MEMORY, accompanied with painful sensation of having LEFT UNDONE something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, DEBILITY, and low spirits, Sometimes MANY of the above symtoms attend the disease, and at other times very few of them; but the LIVER is generally the organ most involved.

Nearly all diseases originate from Indigestion and Torpidity of the Liver, and relie is always anxiously sought after. If the Liver is Regulated in its action, health is almost invariably secured. Want of action in the Liver causes Headache, Constipation, Jaundice, Pain in the Shoulders, Congh, Chills, Dizziness, Sour Stomach, bad taste in the mouth, Blinous attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, depression of spirits, or the blues, and a hundred other asymptoms, for which SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR is the best remedy that has ever been discovered. It sets mildly, effectually, and being a simple vegetable compound, can do no injury in any quantities that it may be taken. It is harmless in every way; it has been used for forty years, and hundreds of the good and great from all parts of the country will youch for its being the purest and best.

THE MINING DIFFICULTIES. The Sheriff's Posse Fired Into-Military Called for-Several Parties

Wounded - The Military Quiets

Everything. MAHONING CITY, PA., June 4.— At 3 p. m. yesterday Sheriff Warren telegraphed his posse had been fired upon, and asked military assistance. The first disturbance occurred at King, Tyler & Co.'s colliery, when the Sheriff with his posse ordered the rioters to disperse. One of the chiefs replied they could not drive them away, and fired on the Sheriff. The firing became general and about two hundred shots were fired. The Sheriff being overpowered, retreated to the town and reorganized his force, the citizens volunteering.— Eight raiders were wounded and one killed. Several citizens were wound-

POTTSVILLE, June 4.-All the colleeries that had been compelled to suspend work by the raiders resumed work this a. m., being assured of military protection. The citizens think it will be necessary to retain the troops in their midst for several days to insure the continuance of the work begun. There was an alarm occasioned by firing in the upper end of Mohoning city at midnighs and the troops were got ready for any emergency. The shots were fired by a mob of raiders at Shenandoah. Quiet prevails since the arrival of the troops at Mount Carmell. Wilsons, Cheniwick & Co.'s colliery destroyed by fire last night, being fired by a mob of 100 men. At this colliery men had been working for two citement continues in vicinity of St. Clair, 1000 men and boys being in line again this a. m., coming from Glen, Carbon, Heckshireville and adjacent towns.

At Wadesville the miners at work in Doring & Co's. colliery were driven from work by strikers. Adjutant General Latta arrived here from Philadephia last night and was met at the depot by General Sigfried, and during the night the Generals were closeted together and fully discussed the affairs and the situation This morning they went by special train to Shenandoah and Mahoning city to make necessary arrange ments for the campaign.

Miscellaneous Items. Sixty persons were drowned yesterday by the capsizing of a lighter in the river Tagus, Portugal. The German ambassador of Bruss els has made fresh representations and complaints touching the Roman Catholic processione.

bales of cotton damaged. MILWAUKEE, WIS., June 4.— Arch-bishop Henrie was consecrated yesterday. The ceremonies were most imposing, and the Cathedral was crowded at 9 a. m. Mass began at 10. Bishop Heiarr, of LaCrosse, was the celebrant, and Bishop Ryan, of Mass., delivered sermon.

In the evening there was a grand torch-light procession of all the Cath-olic societies in the city. It was two miles in length and there were 5,000 torches. The procession halted in front of the Archbishop's when there was a salute of guns and the ringing of the bells of all the Catholic churches in the city. Addresses were made Thieves.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—A smuggled lace dress of the Empress Eugenie, bought at one of her Majesty's sales was seized here to-day. It is valued at $10,000.

There has been considerable excitement in the Treasury to-day over rumors that the party who committed the large theft on Wednesday had been arrested, but the officers of the Secret Service division as well as that any one has yet been arrested.

The Postmaster General Looking After His Subs-The Indians. WASHINGTON, June 4.-Postmaster General Jewell is about making an extensive western trip to see for himself how things are worked.

Masterly inactivity still characterizes the counsels of the Indians. Standing Rock says he has land, but has neither wings nor legs.

THE POWER OF THE PRESS .- An unfortunate mistake on the part of the British Associaton has done good in one respect by demonstra-ting the power of the press. The splendid concert with which the celebration last week closed was a comparative failure in point of audience, solely through lack of noti-ces in the press. This fact points a moral nearer home. There are men in Farmville foolish enough to be-lieve that the town would prosper just as well without a local newspaper.-Farmville Mercury.

The Prince de Cecchi drove a fourin hand of Jackasses on the Bois de Boulogne recently. Cholera in India is much worse this year than usual.

In proof of the genuineness of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Inde-pendance the dispatch of Governor Martin, dated June, 1775, is now submitted. In the dispatch the royal Governor refers to the declaration as "a dissolution of the laws, government and the constitution of the country, and set-ting up a system of rule and regulation subversive of his Majesty's government." We take this extract from Colonel Wheeler's recent lecture before the Mecklenburg Historical Society. In the same lecture Colonel Wheeler asserts that the first landing of Englishmen along our Atlantic coast was in North Carolina. It is set forth that the fleet fitted out under the auspices of Sir Walter Raleigh, landed on Roanoke Island on the 13th of July 1584, and took possession in the the following words: "We take possession of this land in right of the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty. as rightful Queen and Princess, of ye same. to be delivered over to ye use of Sir Walter Ral-eigh, according to her Majectie's letters patent, under her great seal."

"How came you to be a drunkard?" asked a friend of Tom Marshall in a conversation with him. "Well, I will tell you all about that," said Tom, "I gratuated in law at Lexington, with a celebrated divine, Robert J. Breckenridge, and our friends thought we were the intellectual wonders of the age, and they advised us, by the way of taking a high position at once, to attack Henry Clay, then in the prime of his fame and power, upon the first opportunity. The opportunity soon came. We were both employed in a case in opposition to him. Bob made a speech and I made a speech, and our friends congratulated us upon our tremendous speeches and we were basking in the sunshine of coming prosperity, when the old lion arose, and, with one sweep of his paw, drove Bob to the Bible and me to the bottle, where we have been ever since."

Somebody has written a book entitled "What Shall My Son Be?" Upon which some one else frankly replies: "If the boy is as bad as the book the chances are that he will be hanged."

DURHAM, N. C. The only Blacking that will POLISH OVER OILED SURFACE Preserve the Leather! Warranted to Excell All Others or Money Refunded! The only blacking that will polish on oiled surface. It is guaranteed to preserve the leather and make it pliant, requiring less quantity and time to produce a perfect gloss than any other, the brush to be applied immediately after putting on the blacking. A perfect gloss from this will not soil even white clothes. We guarantee it as represented, and ask for patronage strictly on its merits.

In testing our blacking use a brush that has no other on it. Prices as low as other Blacking. Liberal arrangements made with merchants and wholes le dealers.

Below we give testimonials of those who have tested our Blacking thoroughly and speak for themselves. These testimonials are from gentlemen well known to the public.
